THEMATIC OUTLINE

Living in the times of a virus now which has broken into all borders and penetrated the noise of the local-global, the everyday contours of territoriality have never been more ambiguous and fluid much like the space of the global south.
The webinar seeks to address this space as an indeterminable palimpsest, and a search for a dialogue across epistemological borders through the lens of nationalisms opening up spaces to rethink discourses, voices and intellectual pathways that have shaped the life-world of the region.

The eminent panelists will engage both in Bangla and English throughout their talk and dialogue with each other.
